

Getting Started: 1Password for Finance

Share documents, notes, and payment cards securely in 1Password

The work done in Finance is sensitive by nature. And yet financial reports and other sensitive documents are often stored with typical cloud storage providers, with no particular emphasis on security.

With 1Password, you can securely store and share documents, spreadsheet files, login credentials, even procurement card details. And with shared vaults and granular permission settings, you can ensure everyone only has access to the things they need.

Finance teams use 1Password to:

- Securely store and share credit card and other payment details
- Store and share information exclusive to leadership (with granular permissions)
- Securely share sensitive documents and other files
- Archive and organize financial statements
- Monitor the whole team's access with Advanced Protection

In 1Password, we found the ideal solution. I would absolutely recommend 1Password as a password management solution for any growing team like ours.
