

Getting Started: 1Password for Legal teams

Secure and share financial documents, logins, and notes with 1Password

No one works with more sensitive information than Legal: sales contracts, case files, employee contracts, purchase agreements, NDAs. Yet those files are often stored with typical cloud storage providers, with no particular emphasis on security.

With 1Password, you can securely store and share legal documents, login credentials, secure notes, even contact identities. And with shared vaults and granular permission settings, you can ensure everyone only has access to the things they need.

Legal teams use 1Password to:

- Securely store and share legal agreements
- Store legal agreement templates for quicker contract creation
- Archive executed contracts and organize them with tags
- Use granular permissions to share read-only documents with collaborators
- Monitor the whole team's access with Advanced Protection

“

We believe that 1Password has a great combination of power, ease of use and security. Even our non-technical colleagues can easily use 1Password Teams and keep their data safe.

— Netguru